THE PARABLE OF THE TALENTS

Spot 8 differences between the two pictures.

"I have placed these talents in the hands of my servants, and I have gone on my journey. But when I return, I find that some have increased them, while others have lost them. Woe to the servant who has lost his talent! He shall be cast out into outer darkness, where there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. But to the faithful and wise servant, I will give much more. For he has been faithful with a little, I will put him in charge of many. And to the slothful and wicked servant, I will take away his talent. For he has been idle, and he has lost what was entrusted to him. Woe to him! He shall be cast out into outer darkness, where there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. But to the faithful and wise servant, I will give much more. For he has been faithful with a little, I will put him in charge of many. And to the slothful and wicked servant, I will take away his talent. For he has been idle, and he has lost what was entrusted to him. Woe to him! He shall be cast out into outer darkness, where there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth."
